

My leader is getting married

Badges £1/ea

Postage costs
1 - 10 badges	£1
11 - 40 badges	£1.60
41+ badges	£2.50

Please order using this form:

<https://forms.office.com/r/9UiP7xuz7S>

Profits will help finance camps and holidays for 1st Waddington Guides and Rangers

Badges are posted weekly

Activity Ideas

This is designed to be a fun, commemorative badge, rather than a challenge badge, but as so many people have asked us for marriage-themed activities, here are some of our favourites from the hen party we held when our leader got married!

Pass the bouquet

Similar to pass the parcel, but holding a bouquet of flowers (preferably artificial). Pass the bouquet around, then when the music stops that person is out. Keep passing the bouquet until only one person is left - they are the winner.

Pin the veil on the bride

Draw/print a large picture of the bride-to-be and make a veil from netting or paper. Take it in turns to try to pin the veil in the right place - just like pin the tail on the donkey! We also enjoyed another adaptation - pin the kiss on the groom!

Loo-roll brides

In small groups, choose one person to be the bride. Use toilet rolls (or bin bags, or newspapers) to dress her in a stylish wedding dress! Then ask the real bride-to-be to choose the best dressed bride.

Marriage quiz

How much do you know about marriage traditions? Have a quiz to find out. Write your own questions, or find some online. We used these:

<https://weddingtrivia.co.uk/wedding-trivia-quiz>

His & Hers

Write a list of questions about the bride and ask the groom to answer them in advance (don't expect him to get them all right!). Then ask the girls the same questions and ask the bride to reveal the correct answers. Can the girls get more correct than the groom?! Favourite questions included shoe size, dream holiday destination, middle name, greatest fear and 3 possessions you would save in a fire.

Marriage A-Z

Get into small groups and try to think of one thing related to marriage for each letter of the alphabet. The winners are the group who think of all 26 answers quickest. One of our favourite answers was 'naughty underwear'!!

We hope you enjoy celebrating your leader's wedding!

Did you enjoy our 'My leader is getting married' badge?

Do you know a leader who is having a baby?

Why not celebrate with our partner badge 'My leader is having a baby'?

Details & order form available on our website - www.1stwaddingtonguidesandrangers.co.uk